

Measures related to Covid-19 (Corona virus) – Concerts Rieu postponed to July 2021

Dear theatre visitor,

Dear patron,

Undoubtedly, you heard that all events, meetings and performances until September 1, 2020 are cancelled. This national measure to combat the Covid-19 virus (Corona virus) is necessary to ensure that as many people as possible remain safe and healthy.

Following the measures taken by the Dutch government, we regret to inform you that the traditional open air concerts of André Rieu, at the Vrijthof square in Maastricht cannot take place in July 2020. André Rieu and his organisation have therefore decided to move the planned concerts to the first three weekends of July, 2021. Your ticket remains valid for the date of your choice (for example: Thursday 2 July 2020 becomes Thursday 1 July 2021). We will guarantee a seat for you at the concerts in 2021. If you already the tickets in possession, please keep them carefully. If you haven't collected the tickets at our box office yet, we will keep them for you and you can still collect them at a later time. In the overview below you will find all concert dates of 2020 with the replacement concert dates of 2021:

What does this mean for you?

This ticket scheme focuses on preserving the value of the ticket and you are able to enjoy André Rieu's magical open air concerts at a later date. Naturally, we fully understand if you have any reason for not being able to use this scheme. Theater aan het Vrijthof will inform you personally about the available options. As we have to deal with so many performances and tickets sold, we kindly ask for your understanding and your patience. We request that you do not contact our UITbalie and trust that we will inform you in person.

Slightly different together

We hope to welcome you again in September in Theater aan het Vrijthof. Until then, we will remain a podium! We continue to dance, sing, laugh, wonder and tell stories and are happy to surprise you with all art and culture initiatives online. Follow our Slightly different together-program via our social media, our newsletter and our website. This way you can stay up to date with theatre news from our companies in residence, cultural tips and initiatives from our own city, livestream performances and fun activities for the children. For now, we do things Slightly different together!

Take care of yourself and each other.

On behalf of André Rieu Productions and all of us at Theater aan het Vrijthof
